From the Rabbi's Desk

On the facing page, our Chairman of the Board has made you aware of a few changes in our Shabbat and Festival morning services.

Amy has been meeting with the Rabbis and Cantors so that, together, we can try some new ideas.

For example, the clergy receive many requests for prayers for friends or family who are ill, and it is important that we continue to mention those names. It is also important to try to find the Hebrew (or Yiddish) name of the person and the mother's name, in accordance with tradition.

We will continue to read the full list of names at services on Mondays and Thursdays and on Shabbat afternoon. Rabbi Stern has pointed out that Shabbat afternoon has always been considered what the rabbis called an eit ratzon, or a time when our prayers are especially efficacious. We especially encourage those who are concerned about someone who is ill to try to attend these services.

On Shabbat morning, instead of reading the individual names, there will be a special, beautiful prayer that will be sung by the Cantors; during that singing we will ask you to bring to mind anyone you know who is ill.

David H. Lincoln
Senior Rabbi

From the Chairman

In this column, I have written to you about many of the challenges that face Park Avenue Synagogue and the actions we are taking to address these challenges. One of the most important challenges that faces

Park Avenue Synagogue and the Conservative Movement in general is the shrinking population that attends Shabbat Services. We are all extremely fortunate to have four clergy members who reflect on this issue and want to do something about it. To this end, I have met numerous times with our Rabbis and Cantors.

They have contacted other synagogues and have visited other services. They have formed a committee that is looking at Friday Evening Services. Over the next few weeks, you will see the results of these efforts. Beginning on May 12, our Friday Evening Service will have a revised format. It will keep the traditional aspects to our service and expand on those characteristics of the Rinah U'Tefilah Service that our congregation enjoys. I know you will find this new service both meaningful and inspirational (for details, see page 4).

Shabbat Morning Services will also reflect some changes. As an example, the Torah Service will have fewer aliyot. All people celebrating birthdays will be called up to the Torah together and all people celebrating anniversaries will be called up to the Torah together. The only exceptions will be those individuals who are celebrating a milestone birthday or anniversary. Other parts of the service will be handled differently as well (please see Rabbi Lincoln's column). I welcome your input as we go forward.

This is our year of Prayer and Practice, a year to think about enriching our Jewish lives. There is no better place for this to happen than our Shabbat Services. I hope I will see you there.

more intimate time with your clergy and community.

The Disciplines of Jewish Living

Learn about the daily Minyan.

Mondays, May 1 & 8, 5:45 pm –

7:00 pm. With Rabbi Lincoln's help, deconstruct the daily Minyan by participating in the evening Minyan at P.A.S. in the Appleman Chapel and then learning the content of the prayers and why the Minyan is an integral part of daily Jewish living.

Cracking the Code Hebrew Class

Monday, May 8, 6:30 pm – 7:30 pm.

P.A.S. Rabbinical Assistant Micah Peltz will teach the last "Advanced" Introduction to Siddur Hebrew class, for those who have enjoyed the Cracking the Code Hebrew classes.

Help us to display the objects that enable our community to celebrate Shabbat at home. The P.A.S. Gallery Committee invites you to exhibit your personal Shabbat ritual objects in our gallery from late October to December. We are particularly interested in objects that have a story to tell – whether family history, art and design, or significant place of origin. We are interested in new or old kiddush cups; candlesticks; challah covers; knives and boards; washing cups; havdallah candles and spice boxes. If you have objects to loan, please email FamilyEd@pasyn.org.

Enriching our Jewish Lives Through Prayer and Song

The annual Shabbat Morning Music Service is always a highlight of the year at P.A.S. For this year's Service, on May 6 at 9:15 am, Cantor David Lefkowitz and Cantor Nancy Abramson have prepared an enhanced musical service reflecting our Prayer and Practice theme. The service will explore the uniqueness of Jewish prayer through our choral and congregational melodies, and will be especially meaningful to congregants who have recently completed the "Cracking the Code" classes, and have improved their Hebrew and Siddur skills and knowledge. And because this Music Service falls during the week in which we also celebrate Yom Ha'atzma'ut, Israel's Independence Day, we will highlight Israeli music as well.

To further enhance this special Music Service, our Congregational Singers and Concert Choir, under the direction of Neil Robinson, will join the cantors, and we will have the joy of celebrating the Bat Mitzvah of Sarah Langs.

Congregants of all ages are invited to bring family and friends to share in this wonderful service. A festive Kiddush honoring the participating artists will follow the service. This musical occasion is made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Rita Shapiro and her daughter, Karen Spector, in memory of Sarah, Samuel and George M. Shapiro. We hope you will join us on May 6.

Israel Parade Art Workshop

For a fun-filled morning, Grades 3 and up are invited to this art workshop on Sunday, May 7, 10:00 am – 11:30 am. Work together to create the banner and props for the Israel Day Parade in June. How proud you'll be to see your handiwork on Fifth Avenue!

Congregation-wide Yom Ha'atzma'ut Celebration

Don't miss the fun on Sunday, May 7, 4:00 pm – 5:45 pm. Everyone is invited to dance with us to music ranging from traditional Israeli songs to the latest hits, featuring deejay Kapuano straight from the clubs of Tel Aviv. Kick up your heels, then enjoy Israeli food and wine.

Evening Book Discussion

Join in a discussion of A Book That Was Lost and Other Stories on Monday, May 8 at 8:00 pm, led by Pat Davidson. The next discussion will take place in Fall 2006.

Celebrate the 3rd Annual Raynot

All members are invited to a cocktail party on Tuesday, May 9 at 7:00 pm to celebrate the publication of the 3rd Annual issue of Raynot, the P.A.S. literary magazine, and to honor those who have contributed their work to it. Please join us for this special event.

124th Annual Congregational Meeting:

The annual Congregational Meeting of Park Avenue Synagogue is your opportunity to hear the "State of the Congregation" report reviewing activities of 2005-2006 from Chairman Amy A.B. Bressman, and to congratulate our congregational officers and members of the Board of Trustees and Advisory Council as they are inducted by our clergy. It is also an opportunity to hear about what's new and exciting and to get your questions answered. Come and be a part of all that is happening at P.A.S. There will be refreshments, and a chance to mingle with the clergy, your lay leadership and fellow congregants. All members are urged to attend the meeting on Thursday, May 11 at 6:00 pm in the Hall of Worship. Don't miss this chance to hear about your synagogue!

Before the Stork Arrives: A Class for Expectant Parents

Spend a calm, leisurely hour on Thursday, May 11 at 8:00 pm with Rabbi Kenneth Stern thinking and talking about Hebrew names, brit milah, baby-naming ceremonies, and pidyon haben before you have to make these decisions amidst the emotions and changes that come with the arrival of your newborn. To register, please call Naomi Lipnick in Rabbi Stern's office, at (212) 369-2600 ext. 121, or email nlipnick@pasyn.com.

Try a New Service to Welcome Shabbat

Turn off your cell phone, pager, Blackberry and iPod, and join us for Passionate Davening, a new Friday Evening Service, on May 12 at 6:15 pm in the Appleman Chapel. Our new format will include joyful, participatory singing and a special moment of learning. Lift your spirits and join us as we warmly welcome Shabbat as a community.

Celebrate the special relationship between P.A.S. and The Jewish Theological Seminary at the Park Avenue Synagogue Friends of J.T.S. annual Garden Party, this year celebrating Lag Ba'Omer, on Monday, May 15, at 6:30 pm at the Seminary. Join us for a buffet dinner, followed by an interactive treasure hunt through the campus. A bus will leave from Park Avenue Synagogue at 6:15 p.m. and return to the Synagogue at the end of the event. The Garden Party is the culmination of many cultural and outreach programs jointly held this year by P.A.S. and J.T.S.

It is important that the entire community of P.A.S. supports J.T.S. Last year, we provided three scholarships to J.T.S. students—one each in the Rabbinic, Education and Cantorial Schools. This year, with your participation, we hope to provide scholarships to other outstanding J.T.S. students. Perpetual Film Festival in The Rothschild Library

On Thursday, May 18 at 7:00 pm, the Perpetual Jewish Film Festival will feature a movie as important as it is difficult. Directed unflinchingly by Israel's foremost filmmaker, Amos Gitai, Kippur is about war from a country that cannot escape war. Critics have described it as, "a devastating portrait of the suffocating, disorienting senselessness of war and its assault on our sense of humanity." Working in a "close-to-the ground hyper-realist mode," Gitai, himself a veteran of the Yom Kippur War, tells the story not from the viewpoint of the soldiers fighting, but of the rescue team desperately searching battlefield after battlefield for survivors. This is a hard film, and one worthy of our attention. A discussion will follow. ☆

May B'not Mitzvah Sarah Langs May 6, 2006

Sarah's Jewish education began at the P.A.S. Early Childhood Center and has continued at The Congregational

School. A seventh grader at the Dalton School, Sarah enjoys writing, reading and swimming and has a passion for sports, especially baseball, football and college football. During summers, she enjoys working with young children as a counselor in training at Castilleja Camp in California.

Sarah's mitzvah project was with the Jewish Chaplaincy at Stanford University Medical Center, to which she will donate part of her gifts. She will read from parsha Achrei Mot/Kedoshim, which details commandments that serve as building blocks of Jewish Life. Sarah hopes this parsha will bring a chance to think of how to apply the laws to current times.

Sarah is thankful to the clergy and teachers and her wonderful friends at P.A.S. for all their help and support, and looks forward to continuing her studies at the Hebrew High School.

Jori Goodman May 13, 2006

Jori is a seventh grader at Columbia Prep, where she especially likes math, science and English. Jori's favorite sports are skiing, ice hockey, basketball, and softball. She spends summers at Camp Vega in Maine.

Jori's Bat Mitzvah parsha is Emor which explains the responsibility and obligations of the Kohanim. The complex relationship between the regulations linking the parsha and the haftarah epitomizes the progression of tradition and change. The Kohanim are the leaders who are required to maintain continuity with the sacred practices of the past and to preserve the integrity of the traditions and its ideals.

Maia Salholz-Hillel May 20, 2006

Maia was born in Paris, France and moved to New York to be near her beloved, late grandmother, Mila.

Maia is a seventh grader at The Horace Mann School, where she is on the wrestling team, and especially loves to act and sing. Maia's summers are divided between Camp Kinneret in the Canadian Laurentians, and practicing French in Paris.

Maia is a committed supporter of NACOEJ and is twinned with an Ethiopian girl celebrating her Bat Mitzvah, whom she hopes to meet soon in Israel.

Maia's parsha is Behar Bechukotai, which inspires us to live ethically and to do the right thing because it is right and not for any advantage. This is a moral obligation that Maia aspires to in her daily life.

Maia is grateful to her parents and grandparents for their love and support and to the clergy and teachers who helped her prepare for her Bat Mitzvah.

News From Our Schools

Congregational School

Jewish Values

We teach Jewish values in our school, but how can we choose a Jewish value? We in the school have some ideas, as our students taught us on Shabbat Hakavod:

family and strive for harmony.

Rachel Lander: Hay class made a list of our most important Jewish values. We narrowed the list and selected two: Respect and Family. We came to a conclusion that Respect and Family are equally important. We combined them and got Respect Your Family. These values are important not only to the Jewish community, but to every community. You have to start by respecting yourself, then your 2006 -2007 school year from members and non-members.

The school will consider new applications for Gan, Alef and Bet grades as well as transfers into higher grades (on a very limited basis).

There are spots open in our MATAN program for learning differences, parents, extended family and community. This reminds me of a tree: It starts from the roots (yourself), moves up to the trunk (your parents, brothers and sisters), then to the branches (your extended family), and finally to the leaves (your community). We think that if you don't respect yourself, family and community, you can't accomplish a lot in life. This shows that Respecting Your Family can get you far in life.

Jonathan Furman: This year, one of the things that the Vav class studied was Jewish values. We discussed various Jewish values and, for this Shabbat service, decided which one was the most important to us. How could we decide which Jewish value was most important, since they're all so important and meaningful? The Jewish value we chose was honesty, simply put, because in Judaism G-d has always dealt with the Jewish people honestly. If G-d hadn't been honest with us, we wouldn't be here today. G-d said that he would take us out of a foreign land, Egypt, and he did. G-d said he would get us to the promise land and we got there and are still there. He also promised that he would give us rain for our crops; he did that too. G-d has never broken his word or done something terrible to the Jewish people (at least not without warning us). To the Vav class, "honesty" was an important Jewish value, because it seemed to be so close to an attribute of G-d.

More on Jewish Values

Think middot – moral qualities. Think mitzvot – commandments or good deeds. Think musar – instruction. Then, think mensch – decent person.

The Meaning of Shabbat Hakavod

by Diane Smallberg

Teach a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from It," goes an old Yiddish saying. For those of us who are parents, "the way he (or she) should go" may mean sending our children to study and learn the ethical, religious and spiritual lessons taught at The P.A.S. Congregational School. For the children, "the way he should go" means literally, "you are going to Hebrew School today, no discussion."

Some children may not yet understand the value of their Jewish education and those who do may still balk at having to go three times a week. Nonetheless, on Shabbat

Hakavod, the day we honor the children for their commitment to their Jewish path of learning, they knew their prayers, chanted in earnest, and sang with a full and joyous heart. All of us present—parents, relatives, congregants and children shared in the pride of this accomplishment.

Spoken or unspoken, each child, from Gan to Vav, standing on the Bimah next to the Rabbis and the Cantors, understood and felt the importance of the day and its significance. By the time the children finished their desserts at the Kiddush luncheon following the services, they may have let go of the feeling, but it is our hope and desire that they "will not depart from it."

These are the ideas and the ideals that express the meaning of the term "Jewish values."

What makes a value Jewish? Louis Jacobs' book, The Jewish Religion: A Companion (Oxford University Press, 1995), clarifies that important question. Jacobs writes: "Basic to all the higher religions are ideals corresponding closely to those described as Jewish. Non-religious, as well as religious, ethical thinkers have expounded on the worth of humility, truth, love, and compassion. If the adjective 'Jewish' is used the intention is to suggest: (a) that these values receive a special kind of emphasis in the Jewish tradition, a Jewish way of looking at them; and (b) that they are not remote ideals but are a real, vital force in the lives of Jews." (p.574)

Jewish teaching, Jewish law, Jewish tradition and Jewish history all embrace a remarkably constant set of beliefs and behaviors that can be called Jewish values. Along with the positive ones—love G-d, study Torah, beautify the mitzvah, pursue justice—there are negatives: Do not speak lashon hora; do not humiliate others; do not destroy. Practice the positive, reject the negative, and the moral qualities you possess will make you a mensch. Not necessarily rich, or handsome, or famous, but better than all of those, a mensch.

E.C.C. Applications for 2007-08

Member families who would like to apply to the Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center for the 2007-08 school years are asked to call the school and request an application form between May 1 and June 30, 2006. (After June 30, the school will be closed until mid-August.)

All children who were born before April 1, 2005 are eligible for school in September 2007. The Park Avenue Synagogue Early Childhood Center adheres strictly to its cut-off dates. Families who have been active longtime members of the synagogue are given special consideration. However, because of limitations on class size and the need to balance groups in a variety of ways, membership does not guarantee acceptance.

There is an application fee of $40 per child. The application process includes a visit and tour of the school by one or both parents and a separate visit with the child.

For the September 2006 school year, there were approximately 55 openings. It will be very helpful to have some idea prior to September how many eligible member families are interested in a place for the 2007-08 school term. This will enable us to determine how many applications from new members or non-members we will be able to accept. ☆

VOLUNTEERS, INTERNS, PHOTOGRAPHS AND MEMORABILIA NEEDED FOR 125TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The Anniversary/Archives Committee is looking for:

1. Volunteers and summer student interns to help with archives and exhibitions. Time commitment is flexible.
2. Pictures and memorabilia from any celebration held at the Synagogue, or related to Synagogue history. We especially want photos involving the Torah, such as Bar or Bat Mitzvahs, weddings, or other events on the Bimah. We also need photos of any school activities. Please label with names, dates, and occasion, and whether you want the item returned.

Bikur Cholim Caring Committee

In Loving Memory of Dr. Albert and Phyllis L. Cornell

Do you know someone ill, elderly, or homebound who would benefit from compassionate personal attention?

The P.A.S. Bikur Cholim Caring Committee reaches out to those in need through telephone calls, visits, and holiday packages. The Caring Committee is comprised of trained volunteers who are committed to providing hands-on support and companionship to these valued members of our congregation. All interactions are confidential.
To arrange for this mitzvah, please call Rabbi Lincoln's office at (212) 369-2600, ext. 120.
